RDC Levaduras®

An Industry Born With a History.

We share the essence and core values of RDC Industry, a company with over 45 years of history, a staff of 350 professionals and the highest technology of the sector, that is also FSSC 22000 certified.

Evident Perfection.

A plant dedicated to the production of yeast, located in a facility of 14,000 m² of covered infrastructure and last generation, European equipment and automatism. We continue enhancing our technology and we have added 50 new professionals to our staff.

We embrace innocuity as a standard of production, and achieving excellence in all requirements imposed by the baking industry is addressed the same way.

All our efforts are oriented towards keeping a responsible relationship with the environment; to do so, we have implemented a responsible management system that allows us to ensure a mindful use of natural resources.

Yeast in Process.

The productive process is automated and has been strategically design in order for the raw materials, the products in process and the end products are never in contact with the environment. This helps protect the activity, quality and the intrinsic properties of each product throughout the different productive processes, from the harvest to the packaged end-product.

Proven Quality.

We have our own team of baking experts in charge of submitting our products to strict quality tests with the purpose of evaluating, keeping and improving its intrinsic characteristics.

La Cordobesa is a brand that has already won the support and trust of distributors, as well as our main market; bakers.

RDC Levaduras provides customers with quality products by carefully controlling the logistics and supply aspects of its process, including production, storage, maintenance and distribution. Our fleet of proprietary vehicles helps us ensure that the products arrive at the agreed time, with its fermentative capacity unaltered.
